Selectmen's Meeting

MATTAPOISETT

PRE-APPLICATION FOR FARMERS HOME FUNDS

Mattapoisett Selectmen met with Craig L. Dore of the Farmers Home Administration Agency and William Quinlan of the Harbor National Bank as Mr. Dore explained the procedure to enable the town to file application for a federal loan for sewer purposes. Mr. Dore said that such loans are granted based on median family income of the town and for towns of less than 10,000 population. He said that Mattapoisett fits that requirement and that such a loan would carry an interest rate in the 5% range. He said that if the loan were paid earlier than required no penalty would be assessed. An annual report would be required he explained. According to Mr. Dore's estimate the town would save up to $20,000 by application to the FHA over the cost of proceeding to sell bonds on the regular market. He said that the FHA route would be in the form of one bond.

Both Chairman William Hubbard and John DeCosta saw no problem with the regular report as the town already goes through audit procedure.

SEWER PROGRESS REPORTED

Tighe & Bond engineer Ron Michalski reported to the Selectmen on sewer installation progress. He said $274,968 is the total payment made to Mulholland Corp. to date on the pumping station now 51% complete. The Selectmen approved an August payment of $47,769.80 to Mulholland Corp. The Bay Corp. has laid 68% of the sewer line and Selectmen approved an August payment of $164,839.23. A total of $855,338.70 has been paid by the town. Michalski said that recent progress has been excellent with many tests completed and that no complaints had been received in August concerning the street

Council on Aging

Because we are not releasing the October trip schedule until next week, we are releasing a little advance information to help you plan. Tuesday, October 3rd, there will be a trip to the Chart House Village in Hyannis. We understand this is a reconstructed area similar to what has been done in the Quincy Market Area in Boston. Thursday, October 5, we will have a trip to New Bedford and the Dartmouth Mall.

There will be one big bus trip in October. On Tuesday, October 24, the bus will take our Seniors to the Grist Mill for dinner (or luncheon) and then to the Warwick Mall. We made this trip last year and it seemed very successful, so we are repeating it this year. Next week we will give more details on these trips.

Please remember to make your reservations by calling at or phoning the Selectmen's Office at the Town Hall (758-3758) on Monday (Tuesday if Monday is a holiday) and Thursday between the hours of 10:00 A.M. and 12.

Auction

Items are beginning to jam the stage of the Congregational Church Parish Hall for the October 7th auction, but tons of things are still needed, according to Brad Hathaway and his jolly elves.

The organist at the church will play free at anyone's wedding as his offering to the auction and a valuable ring binder filled with envelopes mailed before the United States ever started using postage stamps has been donated.

Some chairs in good condition are waiting for the highest bidder along with clocks, a surf board and ski boots.

Just call the church or get word to Brad or John Atkinson, or drop your items off during the morning hours at the parish house. Time is running out. And on the pick-ups, just be patient. They'll get to you in time.

Gateway Players

"CABARET" IS SUPER
A REVIEW BY EDITH BYRNES

The final production of the Gateway Players' summer season under the Title VI CETA grant is simply marvelous. It's the culmination of six superior regional theater pieces utilizing local talent in association with professionals (they included Finian's Rainbow, Medea, Born Yesterday, One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest and Gaslight) and emerges as their most meaningful and lavish. A musical drama which treats the rise of Fascism, Nazism as part of the psychic shortcomings of humans consumed in their search of the pleasure principle. The Cabaret becomes a metaphor for all that is harsh, ignorant and cruel but ever so connected with our collective needs.

Based on John Van Druten's adaptation of the stories of Christopher Isherwood, "Cabaret" enjoyed substantial success in its New York run. The minor key songs of John Kander and Fred Ebb appropriately catch the oncoming storm and terror. The M.C., most memorably played by Kevin Michael Feeley, closes the play with a philosophical reminder of the incompleteness of most human experience as we plod Punch will be served at 12:00 Noon followed by a Potluck Lunch (bring a dish for 6-8) and a program of Aerobic Dancing to learn about and watch.

It all takes place in the Congregational Church Hall. Newcomers and guests are welcome. Baby-sitting will be available.

along in life looking for love, fame or any other multiples that represent positive values. Mr. Feeley brilliantly choreographed and co-directed this production with George W. Hayden and Frank Tonge, musical director. Hats off to these three gentlemen.

Marcelle Gauvin as Sally Bowles, the free spirited, fast living singer at the Cabaret is terrific. Her "Maybe this Time", "Mein Heir" and "Cabaret" are true show stoppers. Jim Bruce adds a fine dramatic sense as the author in pre-war Berlin. Mr. Bruce lends his baritone voice to the ballad "Why Should I Wake Up". Karen Chase tears your heart apart as the solitary Fraulein Schneider who runs the boarding house in which the young lovers dwell. Her renditions of "So What" and "What Would You Do" are vocally expert and soul searching. Al Theodore adds the sadly delightful character of Herr Schultz, the Jewis fruit vendor to his growing list of parts. His "Meeskite" is another show stopper. "Cabaret" is full of these and excellent performances. Not to be overlooked is Barbara Pajunen, Greg Leonard, Lenny Spinner, Charlene Post, David Dubois, Mary Stabile and Laurie Carlsen and a glorious group of Kit Kat boys and girls.

Frank Kiman's set is somewhat ponderous but catches the looming fancy of the era. Costumes are vividly colorful. "Cabaret" is top-notch and fully mounted. "Cabaret" is the one show to catch if you like serious musical theater. It repeats Friday and Saturdays throughout September. For reservations: 295-6768.

Choral Society

There's nothing like raising the roof in song at Christmas-time and this is what the rehearsals of the Sippican Choral Society are all about on Monday nights. Next Monday is the last open rehearsal before they really bear down on their selections for a concert at Tabor Academy in December.

St. Gabriel's Church Parish Hall in Marion is where they gather every week at 7:30 under Peter West's direction. The hall is near the corner of Front Street and South Street with parking behind the Wareham Bank branch or a short walk away in the Browne Pharmacy lot.

A nominal fee is charged to join, but to raise a roof it's peanuts.

Eisteddfod

EISTEDDFOD AT SMU THIS WEEKEND

What's an Eisteddfod? (Say "ess-TED-fod")

It's singing, dancing, listening and learning. It's old-timey fiddling, the gentle tones of a dulcimer, and the piercing call of bagpipes and tin whistles.

Eisteddfod is a three-day celebration of traditional folk music, dance, and crafts, taught and performed by experts from all over the world. The dates are this Friday through Sunday, September 22 through 24, and the place is Southeastern Massachusetts University in North Dartmouth.

You're welcome to listen in on the dozens of daytime workshops around the SMU campus, and to attend the three evening concerts of featured folk performers.
